

Exclusive Upgrade Product Descriptions

Lower Steering Column Bushing - These are hand made from tough Delrin plastic. Custom made only for us. Say good-bye to those annoying squeaks! With instructions.

101994DP      bushing, lower steering column (w/inst.)      $21.95 + shipping

Front Sway Bar Combo. Kit - This kit includes the following:

Two polyurethane bushings, two mounting brackets (similar to 108998) and four washers to replace the soft rubber bushings (100774) that are used to attach the front sway bar to the forward frame crumple tubes (also sold separately; K1002DP-A \$64.95 plus shipping).

Four custom-machined polyurethane bushings with stainless steel sleeves and special silicone grease for replacing the soft, weak rubber bushings (108912) that connect the front sway bar to the lower control arms (also sold separately; K1003DP \$44.95 plus shipping).

Benefits from using this kit include more effective action from front sway bar, better performance under hard braking and less deflection of the front suspension during cornering and braking. Also helps to maintain correct front wheel toe-in and caster.

K1006DP-x      front sway bar combo. kit      $99.95 + shipping

"Bulletproof" Transmission Coupler - Not available as a stand alone part from anyone else! The original DeLorean coupler is made from soft mild steel, with a very low strength, and is also only partially splined internally (less than 50%). Failure of the coupler can result in damage to other components, including both the input and main shafts. DPNW has developed an improved transmission coupler that is made of better steel alloy than the original, is heat treated to a strength range about 40% stronger, and is fully splined for maximum durability. DPNW has also incorporated an improved spiral roll pin to reduce the chances of the roll pin shearing under load, which can lead to the failure of the coupler.

K1016DP      bulletproof transmission coupler      $234.95 + shipping
